The "Bishop" Cotton Felt Mattress.

"THE BEST IS NONE TOO GOOD." Our Cotton Felt Mattress is made up of thick layers of clean, white cotton and is positively guaranteed not to mat or get lumpy. Many Mattresses placed on the market as felted cotton have never been felted but are made of sweepings from cotton mills, etc., or of picked cotton which after it has been used a short time breaks up in lumps, and makes an uneven Mattress. Ours, however, is thoroughly felted and made up in a manner that will insure years of perfect service. We have never yet had one return on account of quality. A binding guarantee is sewed on each Mattress and after it has been used 60 days if it is not all we claim for it and you do not feel that you have saved money, you may return it at our expense and your remittance will be returned. We know of no stronger guarantee than this. If we did we would not hesitate to give it. Our Cotton Felt Mattresses are all 45 pounds in weight, and are covered with the best grade of duck ticking. Guaranteed moisture proof and vermin proof. We also make this Mattress in two pieces for convenience in handling.

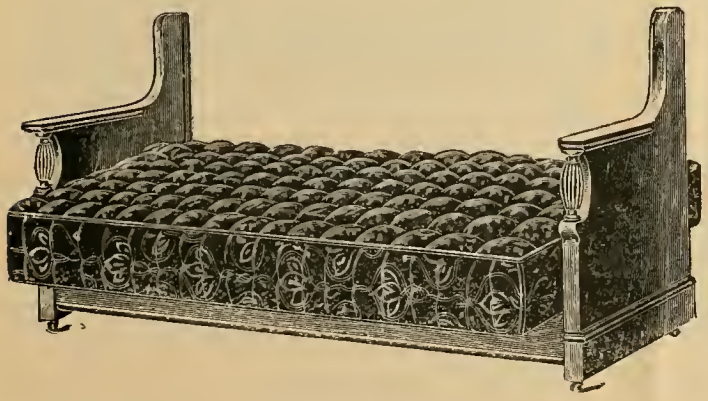
Reclining position.



When used as Bed.

No. 560 Patent Davenport Bed.

This is the only Davenport Bed which can be lowered without pulling away from the wall. When you stop to consider the fact that a Davenport Bed of this size must weigh from two to three hundred pounds, the advantage of a Bed of this description is clearly apparent. ALL OTHER BEDS must be moved from three to five feet before the back can be lowered, entailing a great amount of labor each time it is used. The mechanism is extremely simple and positively will never get out of order. The back is lowered by merely pulling the seat forward by an invisible handle, conveniently arranged for that purpose. The entire Bed is a network of soft, pliable steel springs, without a hard place in the center, as in every other make. To again place the back in position the seat is raised by the handle until a catch drops into place, when it resumes its original position by its own weight. When used as a Davenport the back may be in an erect position or at any angle desired, permitting of an easy, comfortable position. In the base is a large, deep box, capable of holding all necessary bedding. It is upholstered in fine quality Velour, Domestic Tapestry, Imported Tapestry and Bokhara Plush, with a soft filling of Cotton, Moss and genuine Hair. The frame is made of Qnarter-sawed Oak or Mahoganized Birch, with a piano polish finish. Length, 80 inches. Sells at retail from $60. in Velour to $80. in Bokhara plush

No. 510 Mahogany Colonial Davenport.

The entire frame of this large, luxurious Turkish Davenport is made of handsomely figured cross band veneer, which brings out all the striking grain effects for which this wood is noted, and which is rarely attained in the solid Mahogany. Besides making a piece of furniture more beautiful, the veneer is also better than the solid Mahogany, as it is made of built up stock and cannot warp or check, as the solid Mahogany often does. The surface is given a rich, piano polish finish. Upholstered in the finest grade of Imported Tapestry. Filled with Tow, Moss and long curled Hair Drawings, a filling used only in strictly first-class furniture. The seat is supported by a net work of highly tempered steel Springs, wire tied. Length, 76 inches. Retail value, $100.

All Springs are highly tempered steel, wire tied, and the filling is made of select layer Cotton. Ball-bearing casters. Length, 70 inches; width, 30 inches. Retails from $35. to $40.

Probably the most conspicuous innovation in furniture designs that has ever presented itself is the advent of the "Modern Art," or L'Art Nouveau. L'Art Nouveau furniture is characterized by graceful curves, pleasing outlines and usually takes its inspiration from something in nature, generally a flower or vine, and these, interwoven throughout the design, give a very unique character found in no other class of furniture.

The finish, instead of being polished, should be waxed or dull. This, however, is not imperative, but is optional with the purchaser. Were an entire home, or even room, furnished with these styles exclusively it would become tiresome, but one or two pieces can be used with good effect, lending a tone of culture and refinement to any apartment in which they may be placed.

As yet this art is in its infancy, but the popularity with which the new styles are received encourages the best manufacturers to forsake many of their old ideas and give time and attention to the study of L'Art Nouveau.

Sectional Book Cases.

Book-cases of this character fill a want. Occasionally there is an article put upon the market which accomplishes that object. This is one. Several have thus far appeared, and in presenting this patent "Knock Down" Book-case, we believe we can truthfully say that it is the best of its kind. As the name "Knock Down" indicates, it is capable of being taken apart entirely so that one piece shall not stand upon another, and yet it is put together most readily and rigidly without a nut, screw or dowel pin, and when so erected is as solid as can be desired. It is simple in construction and perfect in operation. It is not expensive, neither is it so cheap as to detract from its quality. Made in Quartered Oak Mahogany or Imitation Mahogany. Approximate weight, boxed, 25 pounds per section.

There are two kinds of Furniture.

One Kind Appears cheap at first, but proves dear at last, because it is made from poor material, in poorly equipped factories, by inexperienced half-paid men, who take no more interest in their work than the convict under the prison lash.

The other Kind May appear dear at first but proves cheap at last, because it is made from selected material of the dependable style, built to stand the test of time, made in the most complete and finely appointed Factories in the world, by competent men, who are thoroughly conversant with every detail of their respective duties, men who have made a lifelong study of the furniture industry, designers, cabinet makers, and finishers who receive splendid salaries and therefore give their entire time and best talents to the tasks assigned them. This kind is produced by the
